Virtual Engagements

Engage employees through 1-hour interactive virtual sessions (10–200 participants) hosted by a Mercy Corps team member.

Sessions are educational and interactive, and can be tailored to address topics of interest, including disaster response, climate resilience, and gender equity.

Sessions:

- What's in the Emergency Backpack?
- When Disaster Strikes
- Climate Crisis to Resilience
- Storytelling and Healing Arts

A donation is required for virtual facilitations

Self-guided Activities

Flexible, virtual, low-touch actions with high impact. Employees can participate anytime, anywhere.

Activities include writing messages to Mercy Corps' front-line workers, sharing campaigns as digital ambassadors, or learning through online games on climate and conflict. Perfect for large-scale or virtual engagement.

Activity options:

- Be a digital ambassador
- Write a message of support
- Play "Get into the Game"

No cost or scheduling needed, just a chance to act with purpose
